HIGHER PRICES FOR MEATS

Especially for Beef Housekeepers Will Have to Pav More.

TRUSTS QUEEZING THE MARKET

Having Crowded Out the Small Dealers by Cutting Prices It Now Recoups by Raising Them-No Prospect That the Public Will Get Relief for Some Time.

Washington housekeepers may expect within the next few weeks a decided inrease in the price of all kinds of meat, specially beef. The advance has not acrally taken place in the local markets, but the dealers say they are now paying a higher price for good meats than for many years, and that they must raise the re-tail price in order to protect themselves.

of the most intelligent dealers in alking of the matter to The times reporter, gave some interesting facts in regard to the state of the local beef market. He also made some observations, which, as a reflection of the sentiments of local deal-ers, will be of interest. He attributed the Impending advancein prices to two reasons

The first and primary cause he believed to lie in the fact that there is less good stail-fed beef on the market this year than for several years post. This, he said, was caused by the retirement of many cattle raisers from the business because of the low prices which prevailed for several years. The low prices were the direct result of the big operators, such as Swift, Armour, Morris and others, practically gaining control of the market and driving out the smaller dealers. Now that they have gained control of the market, they find it to their advantage to limit the sup ply of beef and thus furnish themselves with the plausible excuse of raising the price owing to the "scarcity."

This fact, the dealer said, was well known among the smaller dealers all over the country, and there is a fear among them that this "squeeze" will be perceptibly tighter from now on.

The same dealer said that Senator Vest visited him at his place of business a short time ago and asked him many questions with regard to the conditions which pre-Senator expressed the belief that the big Western dealers would in a short time gain the same control over the beef market as that which Havemeyer and the sugar trust hold over sugar.

'The Washington people," said the dealer, "are not as particular as to the quality of their meats as the New York and Boston people Consequently the Chicago dump their low-grade stock here, which they cannot dispose of further North. As a matter of fact, I have to send to New York and buy my really fine cuts, for the Chicago companies dia t send a pound of the highest grades here. "We have plenty of the Texas range or grass beef, but the grain-fed beef is very Ciephane acted as secretary. The report of the treasurer showed that the receipts during the year were $7,314.82 and that the cash on hand at the beginning year was $540.35, a total of of the ye $7,855.17. The disbursements for the year amounted to $7,336.57, and the cash on hand is $518.60. C Clepbane, and the original proprietors elected to represent them in the board Hon-R. Wayne Parker and Walter D. Davidge to elect an advisory board of six trustees, will not be entitled to a vote.

ROSE SEEKS TO RECOVER.

Wants Pay for Land Taken for Street Extension.

Mesura. H. O. Claughton and Percival Brown appeared before the Commissioners yesterday in behalf of Mr. Frederick Rose, who is desirous of having the District pay him for a certain portion of his land, taken in the extension of Fourth street northwest, near the entrance to the grounds of the Catholic University.

When the street was extended Mr ose's name was upon the list of property owners who consented to the extreme through their property. He later repu-diated his signature as a forgery and owners who consented to the extension appealed to the courts, where it cided that the occupancy by the District was illegal. Mr. Rose now asks that the Commissioners either pay him for his property or restore it to its original condition by placing a fence about it. The matter has been referred to the attorney for the District for report.

Liberty Market Claims Argued. The Commissioners yesterday afternoon tened to the arguments of Messrs. J. J. Hemphill and A. Y. Bradley, representing the claimants for damages resulting from the destruction of the old Northern Liberty The attorney for the District. in an opinion recently handed down, decided that good will and the values of the stalls as places of business could not be reckoned to the schedule of losses. Messrs Hemphill and Bradley contended otherwise, and the board reserved its decision.

District Building Notes.

The following officers have been warned or the police trial board: Privates D. C. Lamb, G. W. Rickles and J. B. Hendricks. The Eckington and Soldiers' Home Rallway Company has been notified to repair readway on D street, between Ninth and Thirteenth streets northeast.

The Commissi oners have notified Mr. Joshua N. Warfield, who has the contract for the removal and disposal of garbage, that the crematory on upper Water street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, as it is at present operated, is unsatisfactory.

The attorney for the District is of the opinion that the Commissioners have the authority to issue a reassessment against the property of the Louise Home existing prior to the passage of the act exemption that the reassessment was quashed by an officer who was not the proper authority, and it was invalid and without force.

HENRY F. BAUER'S FUNERAL.

Friends Pay the Last Sad Respects

The funeral services over the remains of Henry F. Bauer, late assistant cashier of the Lincoln National Bank, were held at his late residence, No. 216 Ninth street outhwest, at 3 o'clock resterday after-

Long before that hour, the pariors of the residence were thronged with asso-ciates of the deceased, who were asespect and affection. The many magnificasket and about the parlors attested the opularity of the deceased,

These floral pieces, including massive pillows of orchids, harps of lilies and other beautiful designs, were the offerings of scores of friends of the deceased, and were in such profusion that a special carriage was required to convey them to the cemetery.

The services were conducted by Rev. Paul A. Menzel, pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church, and Rev. Byron Sunderland, pastor of the First Presbyteriar

With both of these churches the de ceased had been associated. Rev. Menzel read the service in German, in which lan-guage he also referred to the Christian life and the sterling character of the de-ceased, and touched with sadness upon the fact that Mr. Bauer had proposed to take a trip to Europe on the 20th of this month, and a.cw a comparison between the proposed earthly trip, with its contempla transient pleasure, and the journey taken estend to that realm where, he said eternal happiness reigns supreme Rev. Byron Sunderland conducted the English portion of the services, and spoke in enlogistic terms of the deceased relative to his firm Christian character, his active religious work, his upright and suc cessful business experience, and his lovable and attractive qualities generally. During the service a quartet from the First Presbyterian Church rendered appropriate hymns.

The pallbearers were as follows: Nathan Hazen, H. L. Dauterich, Henry Wex, Frank P. Madigan, C. H. Rudolph, Dr. H. L. Mann, A. Grupe, and Wallace McK. Stowell Interment was at Oak Hill Cemetery. At the grave the burial service, in German was read by Rev. Menzel.

SUIT FOR A NOTE.

Charlotte J. Pile Begins an Action

Against John V. Wurdemann, Charlotte J. Pile yesterday filed a bill in equity against John V. Wurdemann and The Washington Loan and Trust Conpany, praying that the defendants may be restrained against disposing of a certain promissory note of $1,669, drawn June 29, 1891, by one Sarab E Churchill, payable to the order of Orin J. Taylor. The plaintiff alleges that she purchased the said note May 6, 1892, then in the hands of George A. Jordan, the real estate dealer, whose sensational death occurred a short Since his death she has endeavored to recover the said note, but has been unable to do so from the fact that it is deposited in the vaults of the defeedant company, having been placed there by John V. Wurdemann. She alleges that he has ordered the compan to present the note to B. H. Warner & Co. for navment of interest, which they have sented the note for payment in order to realize upon the money received by re-investment. She prays that the defendants be restrained from disposing or transferring the note. E. H. Thomas is ounsel for the petitioner.
